On January 9, the Bryant Navigation Center officially opened in a grand ceremony hosted by ECS Board Chair David Cooke, with San Francisco Mayor London Breed, Assemblymember Phil Ting, Google.org, Caltrans District 4 and San Francisco's Department of Homelessness & Supportive Housing. The Navigation Center offers 84 beds for those with lived experience of homelessness and contains a dorm specifically for women, who make up 33% of the homeless population in San Francisco. ECS's programs and services at the Bryant Navigation Center include onsite medical care; harm reduction therapeutic services; and intensive case management connecting individuals to public benefits, interim housing and assessments for placement into supportive housing. Access to ECS's workforce development and healthy aging programs will also help put individuals with lived experience of homelessness on a pathway to housing.

In The Kitchen With Wimbly

ECS Kitchen Coordinator, Wimbly Thompson, is the welcoming and smiling face greeting guests of the Sanctuary Shelter each morning. Wimbly started at ECS in 2010 as a Kitchen Cook and was promoted this past summer to Kitchen Coordinator after his efforts and demeanor were recognized by ECS management.

Wimbly states the best part of his job is, "I set the pace for a clients day. I am the first staff member they see, and I have food!" He notes the most rewarding part comes when he walks down the street and folks recognize him and tell him how much they like his cooking or that they are no longer homeless and look forward to volunteering in his kitchen soon. "They make you feel appreciated."
